

Mediation

The Court will refer a case to mediation only when all parties agree and when all parties sign and file a written stipulation to be bound by the Michigan General Court Rules regarding mediation sanctions. Cases are referred after discovery cutoff. The Court does not use any other types of alternative dispute resolution techniques.