TROs and Injunctions

All of the provisions of Fed. R. Civ. P. 65 are enforced. The Court rarely grants a temporary restraining order without notice to the opposite party absent a true emergency, such as where the facts alleged establish that giving notice will precipitate the harm that the TRO seeks to prevent. Parties are encouraged to notify the case manager by telephone upon filing a motion for an injunction so that appropriate scheduling issues can be discussed.