Removal

If the Court has a question concerning the propriety of removal, the Court will generally issue an order to show cause. The Court generally will not, sua sponte, remand a case to state Court without issuing an order to show cause. The Court typically does not hold oral argument on motions to remand.